Charleston County Honors its Employees during National Public Service Recognition Week, May 2-6

Charleston County Government will be celebrating Public Service Recognition Week, which is aimed at honoring the men and women who serve our nation as federal, state, county and local government employees.

County representatives will staff booths set up in the Public Services Building (PSB), located at 4045 Bridge View Drive in North Charleston, between May 2-6 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. to highlight some of the County's services and answer questions from the public. They'll also be offering free popcorn!

Citizens are also encouraged to show their support during the week by signing our 'I ♥ Public Servants because...' sign, located in the rotunda of the PSB. Citizens may also post on social media by sharing why they love their public servants and using the hashtag #ThankOurChsHeroes. See a public servant? Snap a selfie with them and post it on social media. Be sure to tag @ChasCountyGov on Facebook, Twitter or Instagram.

"Many of our Charleston County employees are unsung heroes. They are dedicated to the citizens of this County and provide vital services that make our County great. This week, we praise their work and take this opportunity to share information about all the wonderful services they provide to our community," said County Administrator Keith Bustraan.

Charleston County also teamed up with the Lowcountry's Jersey Mike's sandwich shops for "Hoagies for Heroes," offering County employees a discount on subs throughout the week.
