

Flooding: The Risk is Real

Be Prepared. Proposed Flood Maps Are Here. Has Your Flood Zone Changed?

Charleston County flood maps are being updated by Charleston County, South Carolina Department of Natural Resources and FEMA and are expected to become effective December 2018. This has resulted in flood zone changes across the Lowcountry.

Find out if your property is expected to change flood zones:

- Visit www.charlestoncounty.org and click on the “New Preliminary FEMA Flood Data” banner when it appears. Enter your address in the field labeled “find address or place” and then zoom in and click on your property’s number.
- Call (843) 202-6957 and leave a message with your name, phone number and property address or parcel ID number. Your call will be returned as quickly as possible.
- Mail the form below to: Charleston County Building Inspection Services, 4045 Bridge View Drive, Room A-311, North Charleston, SC 29405.
- Email buildingservices@charlestoncounty.org with the subject line “FEMA Flood Map Request”. Include your name, phone number and property address or parcel ID number.
- Attend one of three Open Houses next week to see the proposed flood maps, learn about your flood risk and ask questions about what the new maps will mean for your property.
