Charleston County Government announces a special, free business-development seminar on Tuesday, Oct. 30, from 6-8 p.m. in the Lonnie Hamilton, III Public Services Building located at 4045 Bridge View Drive in North Charleston.

“This will be the first time that the County has offered a seminar developed expressly for the purpose of helping our 900 certified Small Business Enterprises understand how to best leverage their certifications into training and contracting opportunities,” said Susan Hogan, Manager of Charleston County’s Small Business Enterprise \(SBE\) Program. “We have dubbed the seminar ‘SBE 101’ because it will allow attendees to understand the SBE Program, from the ground up.”

Owners of small businesses who are interested in becoming certified are also invited to attend, and learn about the SBE Program’s requirements, benefits, contracting and subcontract opportunities, etc. County staff will be available to answer questions and to assist business owners who want to become certified.

Ensure your spot at this first-time event by signing up today at www.charlestoncounty.org/sbe.
