2011-2012 Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report Program Year 1

GENERAL

Executive Summary

This report, the 2011-2012 Consolidated Annual Performance and Evaluation Report (CAPER), covers the first year of the Charleston County 2011-2016 Consolidated Plan, a five-year planning document that is part of the application process to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) formula grant programs. The Charleston County Program represents the unincorporated portion of the county, the Cities of North Charleston and Isle of Palms, along with the Towns of Awendaw, Hollywood, Lincolnville, Meggett, Mount Pleasant, Ravenel and Sullivan's Island.

Each year of the five-year Consolidated Plan, an annual Action Plan describes a specific plan for the use of funds that are expected to be available during that program year. The Action Plan determines goals for the number of individuals and households to be served, describes the implementation of activities and other actions to be undertaken. The activities for which the Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), Home Investment Partnerships Program (HOME) and Emergency Shelter Grant (ESG) funds were utilized, the progress toward implementing those activities, and the beneficial outcomes of the expenditures are covered in this CAPER.

This CAPER contains a summary of resources and programmatic accomplishments, the status of actions taken during the year to implement the County's overall strategy, and an evaluation of progress made during the past year in addressing identified priority needs and objectives.

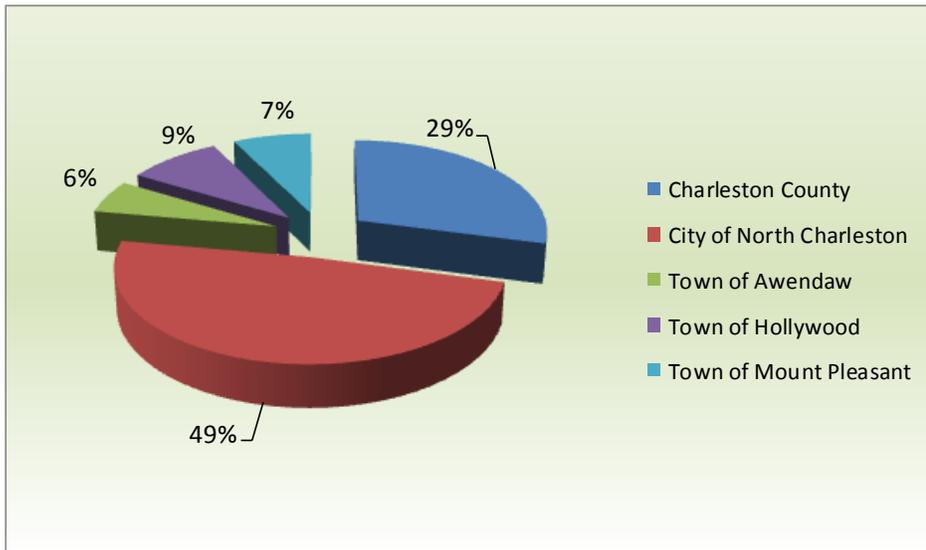

Summary of Resources and Distribution – PY 2011 HUD UE Allocation. For PY 2011 (September 1, 2011 – August 31, 2012), the following resources were made available for allocation among selected applicants:

The following chart provides location data for the distribution of $2,932,633 in 11 performance areas plus the cost of administration and contracting of the CDBG, HOME and Emergency Shelter Programs. All 2011 activities and expenditures were used to help accomplish one of the three national objectives: Low/Moderate Income Benefit, Prevention of Slum or Blight and Urgent Health and Welfare.

Institutional Structure

Managing the Process

Community Services is a Department of Charleston County Government. The Community Services Department oversees the daily operations and administration of HUD programs. The organization chart for the department is depicted below.

County Council elected to operate/administer water and sewer projects. For other projects the County has tapped into the wealth of organizations with capacity and systems prepared to accept federal funds and administer Consolidated Plan projects within three months of funding, and when called for, create new program delivery systems to meet the needs of the community. Such occurred when Charleston County was awarded American Recovery Funds for the Homeless Prevention and Rapid Re-housing Program and the Community Development Block Grant Recovery Funds. All programs under these funds have been implemented and are benefiting Charleston County's low income citizens.

Intergovernmental Cooperation

The County demonstrates intergovernmental cooperation through publicizing its decision making process regarding community development projects to local government, citizens, committees and organizations so that its decisions are not made in isolation - so that citizens will feel that their best interest and the best interest of the people or communities they represent are acknowledged and protected. This serves to reinforce a sense of partnership and community in helping to create the framework and boundaries within which the intended purpose of the urban entitlement funds are awarded.

Implementation of project selection for the funding cycle September 1, 2011 through August 31, 2012 began in March 2011 starting with an internal process for reviewing and scoring applications for compliance with required criteria. This project selection process is described in detail in this document.

In the project selection process, the Community Development Advisory Board (CDAB) best demonstrates intergovernmental cooperation at work. After all internal processes are completed by staff, a body of representatives comprising a Community Development Advisory Board appointed by the Mayors from each of nine participating communities, and four additional members from the private sector representing the construction industry, financial institutions, legal, and community based interests, make recommendations for projects to meet the goals and strategies for the Program Year.

This thirteen member board has been in the forefront of the County's project selection system. An annual re-tooling of the board keeps members abreast of changes in the urban entitlement program, the status of projected accomplishments under the five-year plan and the annual objectives currently being considered. Therefore, on-going education and knowledge of the status of the Consolidated Plan (CP) goals are a necessary part of providing the board the tools needed to make informed decisions.

The terms of the CDAB are two years. These term limits do not apply to the Mayoral appointees.

Participating Municipalities

Charleston County welcomed the Town of McClellanville as an Urban Entitlement participating partner in May 2012. In addition, there are nine other participating municipalities that serve on the Community Development Advisory Board. The ten participating municipalities now include the City of Isle of Palms, City of North Charleston, and the Towns of Awendaw, Hollywood, Lincolnville, McClellanville, Meggett, Mount Pleasant, Ravenel, and Sullivan's Island.

City of Isle of Palms 	City of North Charleston 	Town of Awendaw
Town of Hollywood 	Town of Lincolville 	Town of McClellanville
Town of Sullivan's Island

It is understood that each municipality and the County shall cooperate to undertake or assist in undertaking community development activities as each municipality has entered into legal agreements to be included in the Urban County qualification process.

Community Collaboration and New Partnerships

The County relies on multi-dimensional partnerships to meet its community development goals. These partnerships consist of towns and capable organizations that are able to meet the goals and objectives outline in the Consolidated and Action Plans. For PY 2011, Charleston County collaborated with 32 municipalities and organizations to fund and conduct over 46 projects. Many of these partners brought non-federal resources to their project.

Two important new partnerships were developed for PY 2011. One yielded a new affordable single rental unit in Charleston County. The rehabilitation of the home was managed by Charleston Renovation Group and is now home to a female head of household and her children. The other essential partner was St. Johns Water Company that is installing water lines and fire hydrants in the Johns Island community to provide clean drinking water for the residents and an added safety measure of fire protection in the rural community.

The County continues with its' outreach efforts to gain new potential collaborations and partnerships.

Citizen Participation

Citizens were heavily involved during the numerous public hearing meetings held throughout the County and its ten participating jurisdictions. Citizens were asked to comment, express concerns, reveal latest needs or trends in their communities that can be impacted by the use of CDBG, HOME, and ESG funds, and they were afforded an opportunity to provide written comments to various plans, reports, initiatives, and Council directives that involved the use of HUD funds.

A sequence of public meetings was held in between November 2011 and May 2012 in the evening to encourage greater public attendance and participation. The cycle of meetings included:

In addition to the citizen participation activities undertaken during PY 2011, Charleston County Community Services conducted the following activities prior to submission of the 2011 CAPER.

- Public review and comment period (September 4, 2012 – September 18, 2012) of the 2011 CAPER

- Public Hearing (September 18, 2012) before Charleston County Council to present and discuss the 2011 CAPER

On-going evaluation of processes used to award Urban County Entitlement funds has resulted in the improvement of public participation. Through strong staff coordination, organizations interested in submitting a proposal for funding were given the opportunity to give a three (3) minute presentation to the Community Development Advisory Board. Although this was not mandatory, most took advantage of this opportunity. This opportunity did not replace the open Community Development Advisory Board project selection meeting in which all applicants vying to become subrecipients were invited. The mandates of the Citizen Participation Plan to conduct public hearings throughout various towns in the 919 square miles of the County were continued. Staff also published public notices in the local newspaper and on the County's website and encouraged public comment during the public review period. The final Annual Action Plan was submitted to and received approval from HUD.

All Consolidated Plan hearings were held according to our Citizens Participation Plan and its specific goals are:

- To build trust and understanding by providing the residents of Charleston County the opportunity to identify problems, issues, and goals and to influence decision-making processes;
- To enhance opportunities for residents to actively participate in governmental matters, especially those who are in the very low, low and moderate income categories; and,
- To develop an on-going system of communication between citizens and Charleston County government and to make County residents fully aware of the community development program, its limitations and capabilities and provide timely access to information.

During the development of the PY 2011 Action Plan, leaders of the participating jurisdictions were contacted to develop a schedule of public hearings that are generally spread out over three months. Prior to the public hearings, the announcement of funds availability for PY 2011 was published in the County's most widely circulated newspaper (The Post and Courier). Below is an outline of the citizen participation process:

- Ten public hearings were held before the chief executive of the governmental body of the participating jurisdictions and Charleston County Council. An announcement directing interested people to the County's web site where the annual public hearing schedule could be viewed was published in a newspaper of wide circulation. The public hearing schedule on the County's web site provided dates and times of these hearings. Citizens were offered the opportunity to give oral or written comments.

- A public notice regarding the 2011 Action Plan’s development, availability of funds and request for release of funds were published in The Post & Courier, through the Towns’ public bulletin boards and sent electronically to nearly 250 area organizations and representatives. These notices publicized the opportunity to provide comments about the plans.

Citizens were given the opportunity to observe the project selection process by attending the meeting when the County Community Development Advisory Board (CDAB) convened and projects were selected to recommend to County Council for funding. A copy of Community Development’s Citizens Participation Plan, which outlines the remaining goals and objectives, was made available at each public hearing. The goals of the citizen participation for the formation of PY 2011 Annual Action Plan were:

- Explain the purpose of the Community Needs Public Hearing
- Gather citizens input and comments regarding the kind of improvements and community revitalization projects that are needed in their communities
- Explain the Urban Entitlement yearly funding of HOME, ESG and CDBG
- Announce amount of new federal funds expected for coming funding cycle
- Review funding status
- Explain process for applying for funding
- Distribute informational material regarding expected schedule for funding of projects and signing of subrecipients’ agreement
- Identify types of projects that are eligible/ineligible
- Describe the competitive nature of the program
- Solicit comments
- Review and distribute a copy of the Citizen Participation Plan

The Participating Jurisdictions/Towns where public hearings were held were: Awendaw, Hollywood, Lincolnville, Meggett, Mount Pleasant, Ravenel, Sullivan’s Island, the City of Isle of Palms and the City of North Charleston. An educational public meeting was held in the Town of McClellanville since the participating agreement was formally signed after the Annual Action Plan submission deadline to HUD.

Citizen Comments

Comments and feedback from citizens are consistently encouraged. Throughout the entire citizen participation process, Charleston County Community Services did not receive any comments or feedback.

Project Selection

For this reporting year, Charleston County did not implement any changes to the public hearing or project selection process. The process remained consistent with the procedures of previous years. Charleston County strategically allotted enough time to spearhead the beginning of each funding cycle to announce selected projects, announce major project changes, as well as any other elements of the project selection process. An open process has always been key to the success of administration of the Urban Entitlement funds and project selection. The efforts taken to refine and grant all citizens maximum participation in project selection and the development of the Annual Action Plan are described below.

- Prior to the Request for Application (RFA) being available to the public, a pre-application workshop was conducted to answer questions and to provide an overview of the programs and regulations.
- The Charleston County Community Services Department, through coordination with Charleston County's Department of Procurement, issued an official Urban Entitlement Funding Request for Application (RFA). The RFA was publicized on the County's website, in local newspapers, via email to various entities associated with community development, housing development, social services, and neighborhood related initiatives.
- Upon the release of the RFA to the public, Charleston County's Procurement department accepted all RFAs and answered all questions pertaining to the RFA to insure all applicants had an equal opportunity to submit requests for assistance or ask any questions.
- When there is a need to distribute additional instructions or modifications to the RFA, an addendum is issued by the Procurement Department.
- A comment period was provided after the release of the RFA. At this time all inquiries or concerns went through the Procurement Department. Questions were compiled, answered and posted on the County website.
- Once the Charleston Procurement Department was in receipt of all proposal packages that met the required deadline, an initial review of the content was executed by staff to assure all mandated sections of the RFA were completed, all attachments were included and applicants followed all submission guidelines.
- Applications that met the required submission guidelines were then forwarded to the Scoring Committee where applications were read and scored based on alignment, program design, content and additional requirements. The CP score summaries along with synopses of the applications were then forwarded to the Charleston County CDAB.

- Once the CDAB met and reached a consensus regarding project selection and allocation, their decisions and minutes were packaged by staff in the form of a formal recommendation to the Charleston County Council for the final decision.

- Selection of projects by the Community Development Advisory Board for consideration and approval by Charleston County Council occurred within the strict boundaries of the specific annual objectives and community needs established by the Five-Year Consolidated Plan. Public participation was integrated into this process by a published notice of public hearing listing the projects selected by the CDAB and inviting the public to comment at the public hearing.

2011-2016 Consolidated Plan Performance

As the lead entity of the County, Charleston County assumes overall responsibility for administration of CDBG, HOME and ESG funds. Data was collected from the subrecipients for review and desktop monitoring was conducted to ensure program compliance. At the time of report submission, not only were expenditures evaluated but also goal achievement was measured. The latter was tracked and is presented cumulatively below and on the following pages.

Charleston County received $1,852,925 for CDBG and $939,436 for the HOME program in 2011. This was a reduction of $492,042 in federal monies available to the Charleston community. The Emergency Shelter Grant provided $89,774 and the County received $50,498 from the new Emergency Solutions Grant in PY2011.

This considerable reduction in funding in CDBG and HOME funds, and with the introduction of the new Emergency Solutions Grant afforded the County an opportunity to review its current five-year strategy and prepare two substantial amendments for community review prior to submission of the documents to HUD for approval. The County received formal approval from HUD on both of the substantial amendments in July. No public comments were received during the review period.

Changes in Program Objectives

Several project changes and outcome reductions have been made since the publication of the PY 2011 Annual Action Plan. These changes were made according to Charleston County Community Services Department’s citizen participation plan and allowed citizens ample opportunity to ask questions, make comments and submit written comments. Additionally, the submission of the Substantial Amendment to the Consolidated Plan – Emergency Solutions Grant PY 2011-2012 and the Substantial Amendment to the 2011-2016 Consolidated Plan to HUD in May, met federal regulations and allowed the County to forge ahead to make every effort to meet the 2011-2012 Annual Plan goals and to build on those accomplishments that will ultimately meet its 2011-2016 Consolidated Plan goals and objectives. The County received official notification from HUD of the acceptance of both Substantial Amendments in July.

Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing

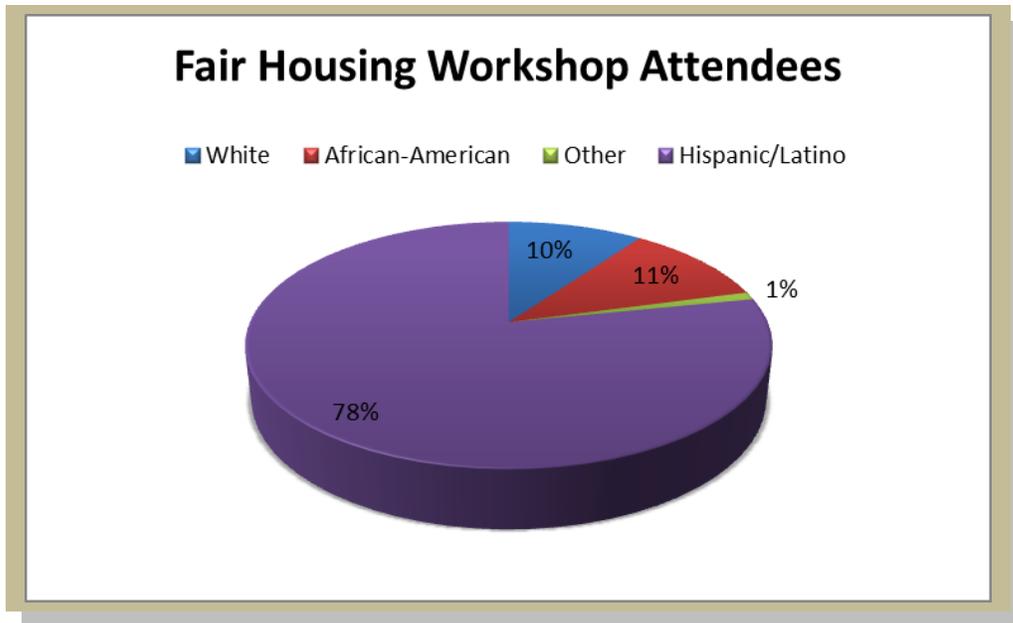

During program year 2011, Charleston County provided Charleston Trident Urban League with $50,000 in support. To date, 246 clients have been served in Charleston County. The following activities have been accomplished.

- Fair Housing Outreach Coordinator has received and responded to 145 calls from Charleston County residents. (Two calls from nomenclature landlords; 138 calls from tenants; and eight housing discrimination calls. Of all the calls received, 79 were from female head of household, 21 from elderly and 20 from disabled clients).

- Seven workshops were held for 89 clients in both English and Spanish covering landlord/tenant responsibilities and other fair housing issues.
- One disability workshop held with 12 in attendance.
- Fair Housing phone bank manned on Live 5 News.
- Five discrimination complaints have been forwarded to the South Carolina Human Affairs Commission.
- Billboard placement at I-26 outbound of the City of Charleston.

Throughout the year, fair housing counselors, including a bi-lingual counselor was available. An effort was made by Charleston Trident Urban League through workshops and printed materials to get information into the low- and moderate-income communities so that residents are aware of their rights under the Fair Housing Act and inform them on who to contact or where to go for assistance. In January 2012, South Carolina Immigration Law SB-20 took effect. Clients have raised concerns on how this law will affect their housing rights.

Current Remedial Actions

The County entered a new phase of strategies for addressing new impediments identified by JQuad during the 2011 analysis process. The Year 1 Program Reports on the impediments identified in the current study below. Detailed remedial actions for each impediment in the following chart, demonstrates that the County has made considerable progress in minimizing said impacts and meeting the County's fair housing challenges and goals.

The County will continue to strengthen the response through remedial actions outlined for each impediment and carry out the strategies identified under the 2011 study. Community partners and relevant organizations will be a part of the strategy for effective implementation.

2011 Impediment Status Report

As identified in the County's Analysis of Impediments to Fair Housing Choice (AI) conducted in 2010 in collaboration with the City of Charleston and the City of North Charleston, the most substantial impediments to Fair Housing Choice in Charleston County result from a combination of both the private and public sector. Transportation issues, lack of affordable housing and an overall lack of general financial education, are the overarching impediments.

The following is a summary of impediments to fair housing choice and the actions taken during the 2011 program year to overcome the effects of the impediments:

6.1 Banking, Finance, and Insurance Related Impediments

Impediment 6.1.1: Impacts of increased foreclosures, rising unemployment rates, the sub-prime mortgage lending crises on housing choice, affordability and sustainability.

1. Remedial Actions:	STATUS
Continue to work with the State, National Non-Profit Housing Intermediaries, Federal Home Loan Bank, other lenders and HUD to evaluate programs and identify funding that can help reduce the mortgage default rate and foreclosure rates among low and moderate income homebuyers and existing homeowners.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Community Services promoted the availability of financial resources through the SC Housing Corporation to help homeowners avoid foreclosure. The announcement was sent to area non-profits, churches, towns and municipalities who were encouraged to share with their employees, volunteers, citizens, boards, clients, donors, etc.

Impediment 6.1.2: Low number of loan applications for minorities and low origination rates for minority applications.

1. Remedial Actions:	STATUS
Continue homebuyer outreach and education efforts.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Funded Lowcountry Housing Trust for the development of new affordable housing.
2. Remedial Actions:	STATUS
Expand homeownership and credit counseling classes as part of the high school curriculum in order to prevent credit problems.

Impediment 6.1.3: Predatory lending and other industry practices.

1. Remedial Actions:	STATUS
Encourage financial institutions to continue to assist low to moderate income persons with establishing or re-establish checking, saving, and credit accounts for residents that commonly utilize check cashing services through bank initiated “fresh start programs” for those with poor credit and previous non-compliant bank account practices.

6.2 Socioeconomic Impediments

Impediment 6.2.1: Poverty and low-income minority populations.

1. Remedial Actions:	STATUS
Continue to work on expanding job opportunities through the recruitment of corporations, the provision of incentives for local corporations seeking expansion opportunities, assistance with the preparation of small business loan applications, and other activities.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A total of $30 million has been invested in Charleston County by two new corporations that estimate the creation of 375 jobs in the aerospace and recycling technology industries. The County enjoys a reputation as a premiere pro-business location, offering specific financial incentives and programs to help business start-ups or a business looking to relocate to the county through: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Statutory incentives - Discretionary incentives - Infrastructure Grants - Gap financing through the Berkeley-Charleston-Dorchester Council of Governments <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Business expansions during PY 2011-2012 included the private investment of $60.3 million and the creation of 212 jobs in the automotive, advanced security and technology industries.

2. Remedial Actions:	STATUS

6.3 Neighborhood Conditions as Impediments

Impediment 6.3.1: Limited resources to assist lower income, elderly and indigent homeowners maintain their homes and stability in neighborhoods.

HOUSING

Affordable Housing

A priority of the Consolidated Plan has been the provision of decent and safe housing that is affordable to low and moderate income households. The following is a description of the activities undertaken by the County and other partnering organizations to address the critical need for affordable housing:

- Through the Charleston County HOME program, one federal home was rehabilitated.
- One of the requirements of the HOME program is that 15% of the amount of entitlement funds granted to the local jurisdiction by HUD must be made available to a non-profit Community Housing Development Organization (CHDO). HOME funds have been set-aside for the development of affordable housing in the County. The jurisdiction has two active CHDO projects from previous funding cycles.
- During PY 2011, three homes were sold through Economic Consultants for Housing Opportunities, Inc., a CHDO, in Oakleaf Estates with HOME rehab assistance.
- The County committed CDBG funds to organizations that provide services to persons with disabilities. The agencies provided needed home modifications for disabled households to meet ADA guidelines such as installation of ramps, grab bars, showers, and accessible toilets for individuals with disabilities.
- Charleston County is committed to the concept of providing an adequate supply of affordable housing in order to enable its LMI citizens to obtain safe and decent housing. The County is not only working with not for profit agencies, but has made amendments to local ordinances that affect affordable housing.
- Charleston County successfully updated and finalized the 2011-2012 Charleston Regional Hazard Mitigation Plan which received the third highest scoring in the U.S. under the National Flood Insurance Program Community Rating System (CRS) program. With the plan's high score and other CRS activities performed by the local cities and towns, $9.8 million is expected to be saved by property owners per year, thereby lowering the cost of homeownership.

- The Town of Hollywood has committed to constructing two 3-bedroom rental units in the Holly Grove community for LMI residents.
- In Program Year 1 of the CP, Charleston County identified the following projects to assist in reaching specific objectives to provide affordable housing to extremely low-income, low-income, and moderate income renter and owner households.

Many of the households exhibiting worst case housing needs are assisted through the Charleston County Housing and Redevelopment Authority and North Charleston Housing Authority's Housing Choice Voucher Program-Section 8 Assisted Housing Choice program. Charleston County Human Services Commission and Humanities Foundation ShelterNet Program assists with rent and utility shortages. Florence Crittenton Programs of SC support homeless single mothers with housing, education and job skills development.

As discussed in previous sections, affordable housing is a significant problem in Charleston County. During PY11, Charleston County awarded both CDBG & HOME funds for the construction of a multi-family unit and the rehabilitation of a multi-family unit in North Charleston. Numerous funds have been designated to assist the elderly and disabled citizens of the community with the installation of accessible ramps and bathrooms to increase the available number of housing units for these populations. Both the City of North Charleston and Charleston County have granted funds to programs that offer subsidies for down payment assistance for HUD qualified individuals and emergency home repairs that target low-income elderly and disabled homeowners.

In an effort to assist County residents on the availability of local services, the Charleston County Community Services Department developed an agency directory as a resource for public events and walk-ins. The Trident United Way Hotline, 211, is also a community resource and residents are encouraged to contact the 24-hour service line and visit the interactive website for referrals to other local resources.

OTHER ACTIONS

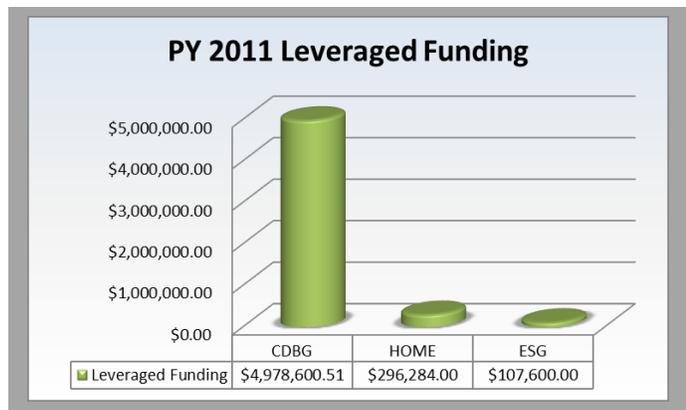

Addressing Underserved Needs

The primary obstacle to meeting underserved needs is the limited resources available to address identified priorities. In addition, the gap in what households can afford to pay for housing and the price of housing is another obstacle to meeting the needs of the underserved. The County has affordable housing stock, yet the income level for individual households such as single parent, elderly, disabled, or others of limited economic means, is not sufficient to afford even the lowest of the market rate units. In order for the County to shorten the gap between the costs associated with managing a household, both CDBG and HOME resources were used by community partners in an effort to address some of these needs.

- Feeding Programs
- Health and Wellness Activities
- Financial Capacity Building
- Housing and Utility Assistance
- Early Education and After School Activities
- Emergency Housing Repair Programs for the Elderly and Disabled
- Clean Drinking Water and Wastewater Systems
- Workforce Development Projects

Leveraging Resources

Prior sections of the CAPER demonstrated the obligations that subrecipients assume for community revitalization, housing and other services under the County's urban entitlement award. The County fully accepts these obligations as administrators of the urban entitlement funds and awards grants to meet its housing, economic development and community revitalization efforts. Thus, subrecipients are expected to bring along and commit to seeking other funds and resources; private and non-federal resources through monetary, volunteers and sweat equity requirements. Although it is not mandatory with CDBG funding, the effectiveness of programs and activities under this is enhanced and far reaching.

Applicants for grant funding are made aware of the expectation that non-federal contributions to their project activities are viewed favorably and as such there is an expectation that community partners have capacity, financial means and organizational stamina. The submission of this vital information is required and stated in the Request for Applications (RFA) distributed annually and becomes a part of the decision making process regarding the worthiness of the project(s) to receive federal funds.

Lead-Based Paint

Beginning on April 22, 2010, federal law requires that contractors performing renovation, repair and painting projects that disturb more than six square feet of paint in homes, child care facilities, and schools built before 1978 must be certified and trained to follow specific work practices to prevent lead contamination.

Charleston County is compliant with the Lead Safe Housing Rule in all of its housing rehabilitation projects as well as affordable housing preservation. Households requesting assistance through the City of North Charleston or a County partner that is constructed prior to 1978 is tested for lead-based paint. From September 1, 2011 – August 31, 2012 lead based paint surveys, including clearance tests, have been performed on homes involved in housing rehabilitation with HUD funds.

Subrecipients will continue to conduct lead based testing, as required, by their sub-agreement, memorandum of understanding or developer contract, for homes built prior to 1978 and to utilize applicable procedures for abatement.

Public Housing Strategy

Charleston County CDBG funds were not used to improve public housing structures or support resident initiatives in PY2011.

However, the North Charleston Housing Authority properties are currently 100% occupied. All units have been rehabbed and there is no plan to construct new units in the coming year. Tenant Based Rental Assistance (TBRA) is no longer being funded by the State of South Carolina and those participants were issued Housing Choice Vouchers to continue their occupancy based on the North Charleston's Housing Authority's administrative plan.

The Charleston County Housing Authority (CCHRA) Resident Services works closely with Public Housing and Section 8 residents to promote activities and programs for youth and seniors. CCHRA administers two programs to help residents become economically self-sufficient:

- The Family Self-Sufficiency (FSS) - The program works with residents to establish goals such as, continuing their education, job training, purchasing a first-time home, or starting a small business. Participants build escrow accounts from their rent payments to help them reach their financial goal at the completion of the program.
- The Individual Development Accounts Program is administered by the Lowcountry Housing & Economic Development Foundation, Inc. (LHEDF). This asset building program helps participating families learn about saving money, budgeting, and more, through financial literacy training. The three-year program provides matching funds (2:1) as participants save for purposes such as buying a first home, going to college, or starting a small business.

Barriers to Affordable Housing

Charleston County identified the following strategies in the 2011-2016 Consolidated Plan and the Annual Action Plan Year 1 to address barriers to affordable housing.

STRATEGY 1

Amend County ordinance(s) to alter density requirements when affordable housing will result.

Action/Status: The County's 10-Year Comprehensive Plan has been amended at Section 3.1.7.C to allow density bonuses (without caps) for Planned Developments that incorporate affordable housing; this provision is implemented in the ZLDR (Sec. 4.23.8), which includes development standards. The Charleston County Affordable Housing Committee is continuing to work to identify additional affordable housing incentives.

STRATEGY 2

Create and complete a countywide affordable housing plan to address issues such as high density nodes; locations; complementary ordinances; and issues related to taxation and fees.

Action/Status: The Affordable Housing Committee is working with the Berkeley-Charleston-Dorchester Council of Governments (BCDCOG) to draft a Tri-County Housing Needs Assessment, which is the first step in developing an affordable housing plan.

Work to enact form-based zoning regulations for in-fill projects.

Action/Status: The County's Comprehensive Plan has been amended to incorporate Form-Based Zoning (Sec. 3.1.7.D). County Staff and the Planning Commission are currently drafting a Form-Based Zoning District ordinance for Developments of County Significance (properties greater than 1,000 acres located in the Rural Area of the County) to implement the Form-Based Zoning provisions of the Comprehensive Plan. We hope to have this ordinance adopted by Council by the end of this year. Eventually, this ordinance could be amended to allow it to be utilized for infill projects.

Monitoring

We continue to monitor 100% of our sub recipients through the refinement of the monitoring system; the revised monitoring system incorporates the following strategies:

➤ Accurately Assessing Risk

The Primary Tenants of Monitoring utilizes a risk assessment model with project scoring to determine the sub recipient's monitoring level for the program year. Risk variables analyzed include, organizational capacity/experience, demonstrated performance, documented program compliance (i.e., prior year monitoring status or findings) and current funding amount(s). Monitoring levels include on-site visit, scheduled desk-top review with report and end of year written documentation summarizing the review of progress and financial reporting.

➤ Identifying Technical Assistance Needs

Annual Urban Entitlement sub recipient contract management trainings and site visits with sub recipients are being utilized to support sub recipients in a variety of ways, including but not limited to, assistance with policy and procedures review and policy development, review of program design and recommendations for managing grant funded services and most importantly, incorporating regulatory elements into program operations. Offering sub recipients technical assistance sessions has been an effective strategy in preparing sub recipients for their onsite monitoring visit while also increasing performance capacity-thereby increasing the likelihood of regulatory compliance. The Annual sub recipient contract training sessions have been re-designed, trainings are being offered by funding type (i.e., sub recipients providing public services projects are scheduled separately from sub recipients who provide home rehabilitation services), in doing this we hope to cultivate a network of peer support among the sub recipients and encourage their sharing of best practices. The sharing of best practices is being pursued through various forums, most notably the County's PY 11 roundtable table discussion addressing strategies to building capacity in the area of home rehabilitation.

➤ Evaluating Performance Capacity

▪ Timeliness of Expenditure Reporting

All reimbursement requests undergo a rigorous review; cost allowability, beneficiary eligibility, procurement/pricing practices, and cost reasonableness are all examined as are timeliness of expenses. These elements continue to be a critical indicator as we are constantly examining staff and organizational performance capacity of newer sub recipients and the sustained capacity of more veteran sub recipients who have expanded their services and services areas.

- Timeliness and Accuracy of Progress Reporting

The review and analysis of monthly/quarterly progress reports allows staff to conduct an “early intervention”, address problems and develop strategies to ensure regulatory compliance as well as compliance with the sub recipient agreement.

The monitoring of expenditure and progress reporting is a valuable tool which not only tracks program performance and progress, but establishes the framework to develop and implement meaningful and appropriate levels of technical assistance supports.

As we evaluate trends and analyze obstacles impeding project completion the CSD staff has re-designed its monitoring systems, sub recipient reporting requirements and the County’s data collection instruments. In doing this we have expanded our knowledge of the technical aspects of project management. The phased approach to funding infrastructure projects has been presented as an allowable use of Urban Entitlement funding; this approach has been well received. While we continue to require sub recipients to project realistic timelines for the accomplishment of activities, acknowledging that the project may require multiyear funding has resulted in project activities which are realistic and attainable within the grant funded year.

Our Cooperative Agreement with the City of North Charleston

- At present the goal of the County CSD staff is to streamline the monitoring process involving the City of North Charleston, we are confident that this can be accomplished through our assisting the City in developing systems, which will evidence their administrative oversight of HOME and CDBG funded projects. It has been mutually agreed that the most effective way to review project compliance and provide assistance to the City is to divide the monitoring process into sessions over the course of the year; thereby creating both a manageable and beneficial process.

Self-Evaluation

Charleston County developed a framework of five-year goals and objectives, with related performance measure as part of its PY 2011-2016 Consolidated Plan. The County has three main goals, each of which has multiple objectives to meet those goals. Each activity funded by CDBG, HOME and ESG meets one or more of the objectives. The Annual Action Plan provides a table identifying the goals, objective, organization/provider, funding source, funding level, service area and expected accomplishment for each grant-funded activity. The CAPER includes a similar table which adds a column for actual accomplishments. The CDBG, HOME and ESG programs provided needed funding for local programs to continue operation and for the County to make progress towards its five-year Consolidated Plan goals and objectives. As seen in the “Outcomes To Date” column, many of the funded activities met the expected accomplishments in PY 2011 with the exception of HOME funded activities.

Although federal funding that supports the housing and community development strategies continues to decrease for Charleston County, most of the program and activities achieved the expected outcomes described in the PY 2011 Annual Plan, with the exception of HOME funds. Identified activities have been slowed due to the current state of the real estate market and the banks tightening of lending practices to the LMI community.

As shown on pg. 12-15, the County’s major goals are on target and progress is being made towards the five-year objectives. These include the strategies that target water and sewer infrastructure projects, emergency housing repairs, activities that address the special needs community and homeless individuals/families. All activities are geared with the intention of providing a suitable living environment and decent housing in the community.

Staff worked directly with subrecipients during the development of the contracts to create project evaluations agreed to by both parties. The Compliance Auditor monitored expected achievement levels against key indicators in order to measure the program’s impact toward the anticipated outcomes and beneficiaries. During the PY2011 cycle, staff performed a cost analysis on grant management and presented the findings to the Community Development Advisory Board prior to the review and funding recommendation.

HOMELESS

Continuum of Care (CoC)

The purpose of the Continuum partnership is to increase the level of self-sufficiency among the homeless and improve the underlying causes of homelessness. The partnership was conceived to ensure that available services were not unnecessarily duplicated and that outreach, assessment, emergency shelter, transitional housing, supportive services, and permanent supportive housing were available in a well-coordinated, seamless fashion.

Since its inception in 1995, the Lowcountry Homeless Coalition aka Lowcountry Continuum of Care has awarded more than $14.5 million to area service providers to support homelessness projects.

CoC Assistance Program Funding

Charleston County grant subrecipients of CDBG and ESG funding receive funds from many different sources including funding offered through HUD's Continuum of Care Assistance Program. Non-Housing Services for People Who Are Homeless

Non-profit organizations, government agencies, faith-based organizations and other groups were part of the community's network of resources and support for homeless individuals and families. The continuum of services included prevention, outreach, supportive services, emergency shelter, transitional housing and permanent housing. A wide assortment of services was provided as part of the overall continuum.

New Emergency Solutions Grant Program

In May of 2011, Charleston County submitted its program year (PY) 2011-2012 Annual Action Plan to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). This plan identified projects and funding amounts for the Emergency Shelter Grant program. At this same time the County submitted the Consolidated Plan that covered the period of July 1, 2011 to June 30, 2016. The Consolidated Plan identified goals and the resources to meet those goals during the Consolidated Plan's five-year period based on the study of local needs. The Emergency Shelter Grant, now the Emergency Solutions Grant (ESG), funds services for specific need populations. The funding amount used to prepare the PY 2011-2012 plan was $89,774.

The County received notification of program modifications from the Emergency Shelter Grant to transition to the Emergency Solutions Grant in accordance with the new Homeless Emergency Assistance and Rapid Transition to Housing (HEARTH) Act of 2009, including coordinating proposed Emergency Solutions Grant activities with the local Continuum of Care (Lowcountry Homeless Coalition), and to amend existing ESG contracts and if necessary, issue Requests for Proposals and award contracts in accordance with the new HEARTH Act.

On November 15, 2011, HUD announced a second allocation of PY 2011-2012 program funds and the steps required to receive this additional funding. This Substantial Amendment incorporates the requirements listed in 24 CFR Part 91 and the County of Charleston's Citizen Participation Plan.

Charleston County consulted with the Lowcountry Homeless Coalition (LHC) to review and discuss the new ESG regulations and to plan for the portion of the PY2011-2012 allocation restricted to homeless prevention and rapid-re-housing. The workgroup reached consensus to use the new ESG allocation in ways that:

- Leverage existing resources to achieve the program's match and case management requirements;
- Coordinate across the county by utilizing standardized eligibility and assessment tools (under development);
- Support federal, state and local goals for priority populations, including but not limited to veterans, families and other special needs populations;
- Allow for variations in the program design that respond to the needs and resources of the area; and,
- Comply with new eligibility and verification requirements (HMIS).

To ensure adequate and accessible citizen participation, the County of Charleston prepared a "draft" of the Substantial Amendment for the Emergency Solutions Grant (ESG) Program. The public comment period for review of the draft plan was April 17, 2012 through May 8, 2012. Charleston County Community Services did not receive any comments during the citizen participation process. In July, the County received official notification from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development of their acceptance of the new program plan.

The County released its Request for Applications for the new Emergency Solutions funding stream in August. Deadline to submit the applications and letter of support from Lowcountry Homeless Coalition is scheduled for September 28, 2012.

Homelessness Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing Program (HPRP)

During PY 2011, Charleston County's non-profit service providers completed its third and final year of the Homeless Prevention and Rapid Re-Housing Program (HPRP) serving 55 households. Work on this project as well as funding provided by CDBG, ESG and the Lowcountry Homeless Coalition through the Continuum of Care Assistance Program Funding efforts has strengthened ties between housing and homelessness agencies. The County's Year-3 HPRP Annual Report was submitted to HUD in August 2012.

Homeless Needs

The purpose of the Continuum partnership is to increase the level of self-sufficiency among the homeless and improve the underlying causes of homelessness. The partnership was conceived to ensure that available services were not unnecessarily duplicated and that outreach, assessment, emergency shelter, transitional housing, supportive services, and permanent supportive housing were available in a well-coordinated, seamless fashion.

In addition to providing shelter and supportive services through a continuum of care, homeless service providers are in the process of planning for HUD's annual Point in Time Count which will be accompanied by an in-depth Homeless Needs Assessment. Through survey interview and a series of focus groups, the Needs Assessment will provide our community with a better understanding of the needs of individuals and families experiencing homelessness.

To ensure homeless individuals transition successfully to permanent housing, homeless service providers offer supportive services including case management, mental health and substance abuse counseling, primary healthcare, education, employment and legal services and housing focused case management. Through a housing-focused case management approach, individuals' barriers to housing are identified and are addressed, in tandem, with the other issues that led to their homelessness. Supportive services ensure these barriers are overcome and every effort is made to ensure individuals are placed into housing that best meets their needs and preferences. In addition, the Lowcountry Homeless Coalition, the local Continuum of Care, monitors agency performance on the percentage of individuals transitioning from homelessness to permanent housing.

Since its inception in 1995, the Lowcountry Continuum of Care Partnership has awarded more than $14.5 million to area service providers to support homelessness projects.

Homeless Discharge Coordination Policy

It is the policy of the Lowcountry Homeless Coalition that persons discharged from a publicly-funded institution or system of care not be discharged immediately into homelessness, including homeless shelters, the streets, or other homeless assistance housing programs. To the maximum extent practicable, the Coalition has in place protocols to ensure that discharged persons are not released directly onto the streets or into a Continuum of Care funded homeless assistance programs. They collaborate with appropriate local and state systems for foster care, health care, mental health, and corrections to develop and implement such protocols.

The Lowcountry Homeless Coalition Discharge Planning Committee has been established with representatives from foster care, health care, mental health, and corrections to address these issues. The committee continues to discuss and evaluate the current policy to identify any unforeseen circumstances.

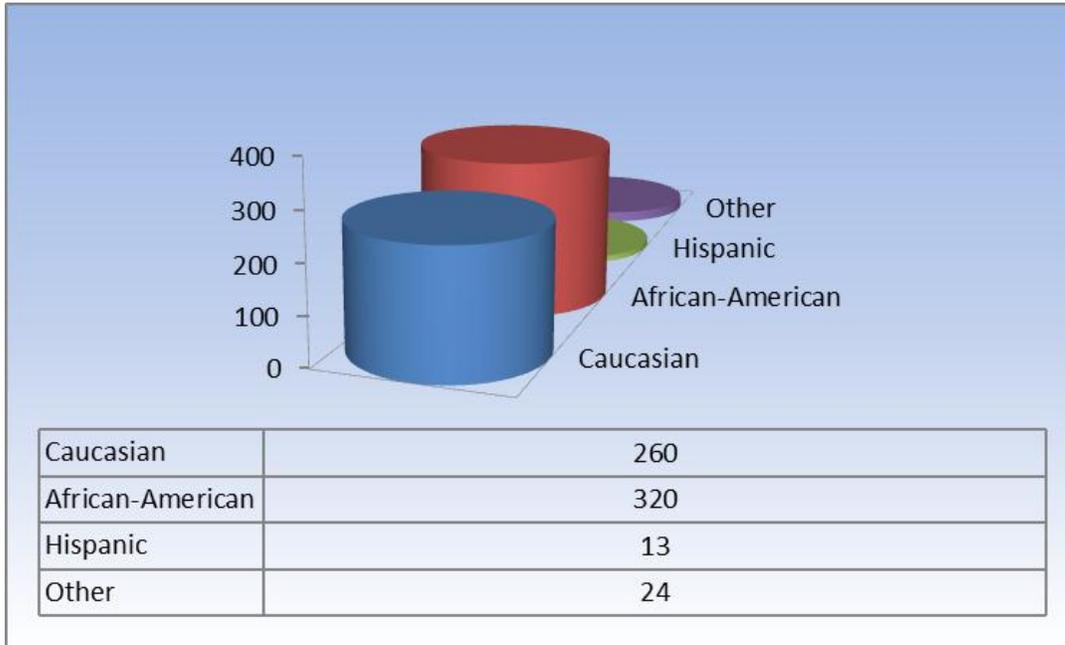

Specific Homeless Prevention Elements

The ESG program is designed as the first step in a continuum of care to prevent homelessness and to enable the homeless population to move steadily toward independent living. In order to address the needs of homeless persons and persons with special needs that are at-risk of homelessness and require supportive services, Charleston County funded several emergency shelter, transitional housing and prevention programs for the homeless. The County distributed all of the funds that were allocated under the Emergency Shelter Grant assisting 725 individuals and/or families.

Charleston County ESG agencies provided emergency shelter for 617 unduplicated clients during PY2011. Of these individuals, 186 had a chronic substance abuse problem, 221 had a form of physical/developmental disability, 116 were victims of domestic violence, 109 were veterans, and 215 are affected by mental illness.

The following chart shows the racial/ethnic breakdown of persons provided emergency shelter services through Crisis Ministries and Hope Assembly of God.

Breakdown of Persons Provided Emergency Shelter Services in PY 2011

During the reporting period, Charleston County allocated its 2011-2012 Emergency Shelter Grant award of $89,774 by contracting with five entities to provide services to the homeless, transitionally homeless, or at-risk populations. A total of 617 unduplicated clients received emergency shelter services and 15 single mothers and their child received transitional housing services.

Crisis Ministries	Countywide	$ 63,005.20	520	582	111.92%

CDBG funds were awarded to five other projects that provided emergency support services and/or tenant support activities that are designed to prevent homelessness for 423 low income households. In 2011, the projects that provided such services included:

ORGANIZATION		Grant Award	Year One Goal	Beneficiaries to Date	% to Goal

The Annual Plan goals status chart below demonstrates that the County is effectively using its ESG funds to prevent homelessness, maintain the level of existing shelter services, promote transitions into self-sufficiency, and support collaborative partnerships within the jurisdiction, the service-provider network, and community leaders.

Throughout 2011 and 2012, the Community Services Program staff prepared for the HEARTH Act requirements through ongoing training, planning and consultation with local service providers including the local Continuum of Care. The County released its PY2012 Emergency Solutions Grant Request for Application in late August with proposals due to the County Procurement Department on Friday, September 28, 2012.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

CDBG funds, which comprise the majority of Charleston County entitlement funds reported in this document, were established to provide specific eligible services and other activities specifically for improving the quality of life for low-income persons. This section of the CAPER is dedicated to summarizing CDBG program accomplishments in seven non-housing community development areas of eligible activities: public service, public facilities, infrastructure, special needs groups, workforce development, and area benefit projects. CDBG public service projects primarily benefited low-income limited clientele. Special needs programs primarily benefited those persons, who are elderly, disabled, or a victim of domestic violence. Public facilities and infrastructure projects primarily consisted of the construction and renovation of public buildings that served a majority low-income area or a low-income limited clientele and public works improvements were located within low-income areas.

Four hundred sixteen households plus 47,746 individuals were impacted by the investment of CDBG funds awarded in Charleston County and City of North Charleston during PY2011. All activities and expenditures were used to accomplish one of the HUD's three national objectives: Low/Moderate Income Benefit, Prevention of Slum or Blight and Urgent Health and Welfare. The resources that were applied to the Year 1 Plan to address the identified community development needs are shown in the following table.

CDBG Beneficiaries by Racial/Ethnic Category

During the first year of the 2011-2016 Charleston County Consolidated Plan, one affordable housing project activity was funded by CDBG funds. In PY2011, the Lowcountry Housing Trust was awarded $25,000 for the development of new affordable housing in the City of North Charleston. At this point in time, the City has not received any applications. The residential construction market remains flat in the region, but there are signs that single family projects that have been put on hold since the recession started, may begin within the next couple of years.

In PY 2011, 102.99% of Charleston County’s CDBG Entitlement funds expended were used to benefit LMI persons. (See IDIS Report PR26 – Attached)

Infrastructure – Non-Federally Funded Projects

The Charleston County Government distributes through its website and other communication modes the progress of numerous road improvements, drainage, sidewalks, parks/greenspace and landscape projects resulting in multi-million dollar investments.

Several major road projects were either started or finished during 2011, such as Bees Ferry Road, St. Andrews Road and Highway 61 Resurfacing, U.S. 17/S.C. 61/Wesley Drive, Glenn McConnell Parkway/I-526, Bee Street and Courtenay Drive, Palmetto Commerce Parkway. Progress continues on the large Johnnie Dodds Boulevard project.

Below are several projects completed during this reporting period that supported the Charleston County’s Five-Year Consolidated Plan for sidewalk installation goals. These projects were funded independently of HUD’s urban entitlement funds.

Dorchester Road Sidewalk (North Charleston)

This project constructed concrete sidewalk and driveway improvements on both sides of Dorchester Road from Leeds Avenue to the intersection with I-26.

AFTER

Willtown Community Sidewalk

With funding from the Charleston County Transportation Sales Tax Program, a 5,600-foot sidewalk was constructed along Parkers Ferry Road linking numerous homes to churches, the community center and the greenbelt property. The project extends from Old Jacksonboro Road to Penny Creek Road and from Anderson Road to Sam Simmons Road. The project also included the installation of nearly 4,000' of concrete pipe to allow drainage of the area.

Fort Johnson Road Sidewalks

Charleston County Government completed two of four phases of new sidewalks along Fort Johnson Road on James Island. All phases were funded by the Charleston County Transportation Sales Tax Program and approved by Charleston County Council as a part of its Transportation Sales Tax Annual Allocations Program.

Phase 1 of the project included the construction of a new sidewalk (some areas asphalt, some concrete) from James Island Charter High School to Lighthouse Boulevard. Phase 2 of the project included the construction of a new, asphalt sidewalk beginning at Walkers Landing Lane and continuing to the entrance to the S.C. Department of Natural Resources' Marine Resources.

Other Transportation Sales Tax Project completed or underway:

The source of information on these projects, Charleston County Roadwise news release stated that 193 projects have been completed by the program so far. It further states that “Many additional road improvements are also being implemented by Charleston County Government through annual funding allocated by Charleston County Council to smaller projects throughout the community including roads and streets which have been resurfaced.” Projects are funded by the Transportation Sales Tax Program in the following categories:

- Bicycle and Pedestrian Paths
- Drainage Improvement Projects
- Intersection Improvement Projects

The County's twenty-five year financial tool for the projects above will generate approximately $377 million. Collection of the Transportation Sales Tax is expected to provide $1.3 billion in revenue between the years 2005 and 2030.

Charleston County government, the participating jurisdictions, and the City of North Charleston, have committed time, effort, county funds and urban entitlement funding to the improvement of community and public infrastructure. The activities of paving and resurfacing of dirt roads were expedited due to the County's leveraging of funding and manpower through the half-cent Transportation Sales Tax Program. Other activities included drainage improvement, sidewalks, and walking trails.

With the leveraging of local and federal resources, the County has exceeded the sidewalk infrastructure goals during the first Program Year of the 2011-2016 Consolidated Plan.

Community Development Block Grant – Recovery (CDBG-R)

The federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) allocated $543,478 from the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) to Charleston County for distribution through the County’s Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) Program. The money was granted to local facilities and municipalities consistent with HUD guidance for distributing the funds. The County elected to make grants available for proposed infrastructure and public facilities projects that could not be funded under the PY2008 CDBG program. Charleston County’s focus was on infrastructure improvements, job creation, readiness to proceed and assisting low and moderate income populations.

James Island Public Service District was awarded $92,500 in PY 2008. The grant successfully retained seven technical and craft worker positions in addition to an unskilled laborer for the duration of the project. The final CDBG-R project was completed during PY 2011 and is consistent with the goals and requirements of ARRA. The City of North Charleston Community Development Office completed four neighborhood sidewalk construction projects on Marigold Street, Accabee Road, Ranger Drive and Upjohn. The project was funded by CDBG-R for $254,430.20 in PY2008.

Charleston County did not hinder Consolidated Plan implementation by action or willful inaction, but actively addressed strategies of the 2011-2016 Consolidated Plan by funding projects which specifically met the needs of low-income persons. Program Year 2011 represents the first year of the 2011-2016 Consolidated Plan.

Anti-displacement and Relocation

All Charleston County Community Development projects receiving federal funds were evaluated for the applicability of relocation activities. None of these projects triggered relocation in 2011.

Low/Mod Job Activities

As presented in the 2011-2016 Charleston County Consolidated Plan for CDBG funds, and the CDBG PY 2011 RFA, economic development activities was not a top priority for this cycle of funding. No projects were funded with CDBG dollars that would benefit job creation. However, it is important to acknowledge the numerous infrastructure projects funded with federal monies ensured individuals working in construction related fields did not lose their jobs with the constriction of the economy.

The County strongly believes in the creation of jobs and the investment it takes to make this vision a reality. County Council authorized an investment of $100,000 toward the Summer Youth Program in June 2012. Students had the opportunity to explore various career opportunities that exist within County departments while gaining critical workforce skills. In addition, the County partnered with SC Works Trident to offer the National Academies of Emergency Dispatch (NAED) Emergency Telecommunicator course . The 40-hour training educated participants on 911 dispatching operations. The course was designed to help prepare participants as a telecommunicator trainee if they decide to pursue employment in the emergency operations field.

Economic Development - Non-Federally Funded Activities

During the past program year, the Charleston County Small Business Enterprise (SBE) Program hosted a series of free seminars aimed at small business owners and financially disadvantaged business owners. The purpose of the workshops was to help develop the skills and knowledge that will help small business succeed.

Free workshops included:

- Goal planning, development and measurement
- Skills development session that covered intelligent networking, confident presentations, effective communications and strategic marketing
- Contacts to Contracts with Multiple County Departments

Several forums were held and provided attendees with valuable information from a variety of local organizations. Topics included:

- Safeguarding your business
- Tips for staying in business
- Funding sources
- Business opportunities with the County

Program income and other financial information

Charleston County Community Services reports there was no program income, prior period adjustments, loans and receivables or lump sum agreements during the PY 2011 reporting period.

Housing Rehabilitation

Both CDBG and HOME funds were used to rehabilitate homes in the jurisdiction for the elderly, female head of household and low-to-moderate income residents. Projects included the upgrade of well and septic systems, installation of wheel chair ramps, and housing rehabilitation for safety and affordability for the residents of the County.

Charleston County and the City of North Charleston awarded $375,000 in CDBG funds and $509,611 in HOME funds for rehab projects throughout the jurisdiction. Community partners project an additional investment of $1,135,283 from private, public and foundation funding instruments into this vital County need.

Antipoverty Strategy

The County's primary anti-poverty strategy is based on the premise that it may be able to alleviate the impact of poverty on families by increasing affordable housing units and financial resources for affordable housing development combined with services to address the special needs of the low-income population. To enhance the adaptability of financing mechanisms normally used for affordable development, the County will ensure that HOME and CDBG funds used for development activities serve as a leveraging resource rather than a primary resource of funding.

Through the funding of various public service projects, the County was able to provide assistance to 2,378 individuals living in low income households by providing legal advocacy, after school programs, food distribution, credit counseling, abuse counseling, and medical monitoring.

The Charleston County Community Housing Development Organization (CHDO) Request for Application was released and applications are currently under review for potential funding. Projects are being measured against the new HOME guidelines and a multi-faceted scoring team has reviewed and scored the applications in accordance with the RFA expectations, outcomes, and capacity to fulfill the project.

HOME administration funds were allocated for the planning, management, and compliance of PY 2011 activities.

Affirmative Marketing

At the present time Charleston County does not administer HOME funds for housing with five or more HOME-assisted units. It is however, the affirmative marketing goal of the County of Charleston to assure that individuals who might not normally apply to purchase or rent rehabilitated units, due to their race, sex, ethnicity, disability, or familial status, are afforded information and equal access to units constructed or rehabilitated under the HOME Program. Charleston County's Affirmative Marketing actions include:

The CDAB is made up of representatives from each participating jurisdiction who are partners in the County's Urban Entitlement designation. These representative are appointed by the Mayors of each town and must also be approved by Charleston County Council. Additionally, there are four industry-related seats (Banking, Construction, Community, and Legal) on the Board that are appointed and approved by Charleston County Council.
CHDO	Community Housing Development Organization (CHDO): A private nonprofit organization with a 501(c) federal tax exemption. A CHDO must include providing decent, affordable housing to low-income households as its purpose in its charter, articles of incorporation, or by-laws. It must serve a specific, delineated geographic area; a neighborhood, several neighborhoods, or the entire community. Merely serving certain population groups (by ethnicity, race, age, or gender) does not qualify.
Consolidated Plan	The consolidated plan establishes a unified, coordinated vision for community development actions for the upcoming five years.
Goals	Goals are the purposes of the program; what the program hopes to accomplish.
Half-cent Sales Tax Program	Transportation Half-cent Sales Tax Program generates funds for Charleston County's Roadwise Program which was developed by Charleston County to support development and upgrading/resurfacing and building new roads, sidewalks and drainage, which were funded under a 25 year plan of action by imposing a half-cent transportation sales tax.
HOME	HOME Investment Partnership Program – A federally funded program that helps an urban entitlement community maintain standard housing in good repair, develop new housing for purchase or rental units deemed affordable to LMI households, including downpayment or closing cost assistance and mortgages.
HUD	US Department of Housing & Urban Development – A department of the federal government assigned to manage and dispense funds for various housing programs including development, rental and housing related activities on a regional basis which typically covers several states.
Intakes	Intakes is the act of examining household circumstances and needs for specific services and making an assessment and plan for service delivery; will include documenting family demographics and income.
LMI households	Low-to-moderate income – means the accumulative annual countable gross income (including regular gifts, child support, social security, interest income) of all households members except for minors under the age of 18. Income also includes the net income of a business operation. These combined household incomes must fall between 51%%to 80%% of the area's median income as established by HUD.
Non-Federal Funds	Funds that do not originate from the federal government.
Outcome indicators	Outcome indicators are observable and have measurable characteristics or changes that allow an organization to assess its success in achieving (or at least moving towards) an outcome.

Outputs	Outputs are the direct products of a program's activities and are usually measured in terms of the volume of work accomplished, for example, number of customers served, number of loans process, number of units constructed, number of homes rehabilitated, etc, the goal being that the program's outputs should produce desired outcomes for the program's participants.
