Brief explanation regarding featured revenues and expenditures

From recovering from the COVID-19 pandemic to supply chain and employee shortages, there are several factors that affect the fluctuations in our budget from one year to the next. Like most communities, the pandemic caused a disruption to many markets. Fortunately, Charleston County made a quick recovery based on the strength of our manufacturing, tourist, and housing sectors. Still, like many communities, Charleston County continues to wrestle with employee and supply chain shortages.

Revenue Increases

- *Increase in Local Option Sales Tax due to increase in spending by our citizens and tourists.
- **Service Charges: Increase in revenues from our Register of Deeds Office due to a booming housing market.

Expenditure Increases

- ***Public Safety expenditures increased due to overtime wages paid caused by staff shortages.
- **** Health and Welfare expenditures increased due to administering federal grants for emergency rental costs.
