New Bridge2Hope app links community to addiction treatment, recovery, and support services

The Charleston Center, in partnership with FAVOR Lowcountry, is proud to announce the launch of Bridge2Hope, a new mobile app designed to connect community members with vital resources for drug and alcohol treatment, recovery, and harm reduction.

The app also offers guidance and support for family members and friends of individuals living with addiction, ensuring that loved ones have access to the help they need as well.

Available now on the Apple App Store and Google Play, Bridge2Hope brings critical services together in one easy-to-access platform, making it simpler for patients and families to find assistance.

Resources include:

- Links to support group meetings
- Information on sober living options
- Veteran-specific resources
- Naloxone access points across the tri-county area
- Direct connection to a FAVOR Lowcountry Recovery Support Specialist, available 24/7
- The Charleston County Opioid Overdose Dashboard

"The Bridge2Hope app puts harm reduction and recovery resources directly into the hands of our community, right on the devices they use every day," said Dr. Chanda Funcell, director of the Charleston Center. "Our partnership with FAVOR Lowcountry strengthens our shared mission to inform, support, and empower residents, helping them live healthier, more productive lives free from substance misuse and addiction."

In keeping with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), those needing assistance should contact Charleston County at (843) 746-4086 during regular business hours.
